

Please take a moment to admire the painted tribute to Buddy the Frog by artist (and Extended Day teacher), Rachel Travis on the front desk. Rachel's email address for her specialty art is rachel@boxiepets.com. There was a recent story in the Knoxville News-Sentinel about her whimsical work. Our Buddy looks particularly angelic as Rachel portrayed him.

This week the Upper Elementary students will dress up in their "Sunday Best" and go downtown for the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra's Young Peoples' Concert. Afterwards, they will attend a special luncheon at Louis' Restaurant. Middle School students will present a special Unity Day performance for fellow students on Wednesday as they dance, act in skits they have written and share the short film THE UNFORGIVING MINUTE. All of this is aimed at raising awareness of the impact of bullying in schools. Lower Elementary students will visit Oakes Farm on Friday for pumpkins, a corn maze and loads of active fun. Toddler and Preschool students conclude their trips to the Halls Fruit and Berry Patch for their pumpkins on Monday. Costume parties begin this week and next week brings Pajama Day for our oldest students as they come to school in extremely casual attire. All in all, we are expecting several days of fun and excitement as All Hallow's Eve approaches.
