

The "celebrity" factor was big at Garden last week as Matt Hinkin, chief meteorologist for WATE visited Upper Elementary, and Middle School spent time with Bill Landry, producer and narrator of The Heartland Series, at the Fountain City Library. Students learned much about their local weather patterns and cultural heritage through these experiences. This week will bring Matt Lakin, a local journalist who is also a Civil War re-enactor (Union Soldier), as part of our social sciences curriculum. Middle School students also enjoyed building their own models of "skate parks" as part of their physics lessons. Upper Elementary wrote some amazing poetry which is displayed on the bulletin board downstairs.

The Scholastic Bookfair will bring joy and bedlam to our hallways this week. When you are not actively shopping, please consider dropping your older child at the door to keep congestion to a minimum. We appreciate your purchases. Last year we received around $800 worth of books from this sale. On Wednesday at 11:00, Ms. Kim will lead all six of our classrooms in singing (and dancing) to the "HIDA" song. Please join us if possible. Also on Wednesday we will have Montessori 101 from 4:00-5:00 for parents. Join us to learn about Montessori philosophy and the Practical Life lessons. Thursday evening brings our annual school-wide Potluck from 6:00-8:00 on the playground. Please bring a dish to share.
